EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

"I bring hope to persons like yourself, who want to discover, explore and achieve their future dreams. For each of my clients it's different, some are looking to find financial freedom, others are looking to improve their marriages and relationships with their children, while many are seeking to be the best they can be in their leadership roles at work."

PROFILE

Rev. Dr. Jim Wadford serves as the Director of the Doctor of Ministry Program at Hood Theological Seminary, where he teaches as part of the faculty. Dr. Wadford came to the seminary as an adjunct professor in June of 2005 and for the past six years headed the Doctor of Ministry Program.

Dr. Wadford is a Professional Certified Coach with the International Coach Federation, and the Founder and President of Coaching & Consulting International, LLC of Concord, North Carolina. The past thirty-five years of his professional career were given to consulting with organizations and judicatories in the southeastern United States. He has experience in leading groups through transition, change, and transformation. The skills and training accomplishments have prepared him for working with organizations across the United States and in other countries, like South Africa.
